Student Senate Meeting Agenda

May 8th, 2018 – David E Johnson Boardroom

- I. Call to Order
- II. Roll Call
- III. Approval of the minutes
 - A. Approved.
- IV. Special Order
 - A. Ezra Plemons and Kurtis Gibson - St. Olaf IT
 1. Gibson: We have a link to get feedback from students - we would love to have some feedback from you.
 2. Plemons: I work in DISCO, which is part of IT, but we are here as representatives of IT.
 3. Gibson: We will give an overview of IT, and talk about resources available. We'll also give some DISCO updates and talk about summer projects for IT. We'll talk about the state of the wifi, and talk about the future and current plans. IT is responsible for just about anything that plugs into an outlet and has some circuitry. We have 28 full-time staff and roughly 80 student workers. Our offices are found in the DISCO and Cave on the fourth floor of the library. We have roughly 2500 campus computers. We provide support for students, faculty and staff. The help desk averages 300 tickets a month, which spikes in September when everyone gets here. We have a lot of resources online; many things are self-guided. Anyone that's a senior should start thinking about the leaving St Olaf document - that's how to transfer your email, etc. Your account will expire. We've been working on printing - has it become less of a pain in the last year?
 4. Plemons: There's updates with Google especially with lab computers, to make accessing files a lot easier. We're beholden to Google. You should be aware of Google file drivestream - it's a software that you can search for and it lets you log in with your St Olaf credentials and then your Google drive will appear.

5. Gibson: There was a push from students regarding the two-step authentication; increases account security. Carleton has required this for all students. We're looking into it because it increases your account protection and makes it virtually impossible to break in.

6. Plemons: DISCO is the Digital Scholarship Center; we just got a new logo to align with the new brand. We just turned two! We've made some studio changes and added VR; Tuesday afternoons we have open VR time. We just did a teaching technology showcase. We have drones we can use with research. One large change is the Digital Humanities on the Hill Grant which has expired; we're looking for other partnerships around campus, like classes doing research in DISCO. We just introduced the CAVE, we're working hard to improve equipment checkout and took away the Hollywood room. With RML 577 we took away the classroom and opened the room - we tried to adjust to all types of student study spaces on the 5th floor. The CAVE is in partnership with the Piper Center; meant for more hands on activity - it's a community space for creativity and innovation; open to all and we will hopefully be able to offer a way to teach workshops and offer that students. It's on the 4th floor; this space is not necessarily geared for academics, more of a creative space and will be open full time in the fall.

7. Gibson: Some of our aims in the summer are to push for classroom recordings-improve capture for recordings of lecture, getting rid of SD for campus tv to HD(60SD to 30HD) - this will primarily impact resident halls and the gym and is based on student feedback. For wifi we're focusing on three aspects: we will change the coverage of Ytterboe because right now you can get good wifi in the common room but not anywhere else, we'll try to improve it because right now some APs don't go through the walls between rooms. We're figuring out where we should put this. We will have ceiling APs and fix wiring in Mohn. This will start to be fixed during the summer through the fall. For honor houses we're working on upgrading fiber work and switches. Rand is updated and access points have doubled. We're still working to increase that. Regarding the All About Olaf app - it's a quick and easy wireless problem reporting place; we need feedback and help for places with both good and bad wifi, so as to to guarantee wifi satisfaction. So please report bad wifi so I can fix it. This will be presented to first years as well to survey wifi connection on campus. The IT Helpdesk for any problems or questions regarding technology or wifi on campus, we want to provide.

8. Casey: Do you know if there is a way to get better wifi at on devices?

9. Gibson: Some are easier to support than others; we're happy to see if it's the device or Eduroam that is not working.

10. Mazen: what would happen to team drives when we graduate? What happens to home drives?

11. Gibson: If you leave it is simply disabled, but not deleted. If you share it with someone else they can't see it unless there's another owner. Home directories for those that don't know - the usage is low, so we are trying to get rid of them. It's kind of like a Google drive to store your files, except Google does a way better job of that. We're trying to transfer everything right now - so it can move it all over to your drive so you can have access to it, while it still disables your access to those drives (but you still have them).

12. Al-Haddad: Question about makerspace-are the 3D printing printers there; sufficient budget to maintain its use?

13. Plemons: Respecting space and equipment is something that will be enforced. We have two 3D printers, one works better than the other-we swap them. If the budget allows, we'd like to have three-hopefully will go through Piper Center; ideally all remains free due to donors.

14. Plemons: What's the best way to communicate to students and get feedback? Is there a best way?

15. Mazen: Tabling is efficient and approachable.

B. SGA Budget 2018-2019 - Sarah Freyermuth

1. Bergeland: These presentations are about next year; they will not be voted on this year.

2. Freyermuth: None of is finalized until fall with the final allocation, which will either will stay the same or be decreased due to SRAP. The buffer fund and capital improvements will stay the same. Security will be increased due to an increase in security costs. Collegiate readership decreased and saved $8000, so only $10,000 will be used and newspapers will be going through only the New York Times. Stipends will be decreased $450. EMTS were previously funded by administration, but we're not sure why; they were under VN for the past year which put a strain on them. They will be given $7000 because EMTs pay money to become EMTs but don't get paid. We will speak to administration about reimbursements. Senate initiatives increased from $1500 to $4000; they will allocate that money amongst themselves. The Board of Student Media increased by $2000 and most of that will go to the Mess. Admin increased $1700 due to love bus which will add a stop at Aldi and the Movie theater. SAC increased by 3% and got an extra $700. PAC, ADC, BORSC are staying the same. VN stayed the same but with EMTs out, they gained technically. The Pause increased by $1000. DISC $2500 went to DISC because of orgs leaving SOC for DISC and SOC was given $1500, but it makes up because most of the orgs have left. This is not in its final form, it will be revisited in the fall.

3. Mazen: What is the total budget allocation?

4. Freyermuth: $470,000.

5. Casey: Is love bus paying for money to go there with Carleton?

6. Nwigwe: We're looking into possible discounts for students from the movie theater and splitting the cost between SGA, res life, and Carleton; I do not expect love bus to be $1700.

7. Ahsan: Are there any predictions for it the SGA budget is lower, where would that money be cut from?

8. Freyermuth: I'll wait for Abbie to come back to make those decisions. I can't give you an idea right now.

9. Mazen: Why is the administration not supporting the EMTs anymore?

10. Nwigwe: We felt that the EMTs provide a service to SGA. They were under VN, but we wanted to ensure their funding so we made them a pre-budget line item because it's important that they're well-funded. The administration covers some hidden costs with Northfield hospital that res life pays for.

C. Board of Student Media Presentations

1. The Quarry

a) Ander Mattson: I'll hand out copies of the Quarry so you can see it! I'm going to be the executive editor next year. The Quarry is a literature and fine arts magazine. It's a platform for students to share creative projects with the campus community. We publish video and new media on our website and Facebook. This offers editors experience in the field of editing. In the 2018-19 year we are planning on having a show again when the book is launched. I'm interested in moving from constant events that have a low turnout to reach for fewer events with a larger turnout. We could work on having bigger more collaborative events maybe with the fine arts collaboration house, KSTO, Wendell Berry house, etc. Our projected budget is the same as last year and includes printing costs for 475 books ($3000). The website is important so that students who want to go to grad school can include the link in their application. This budget also includes marketing, events and stipends.

2. The Manitou Messenger

a) Mattson: Myself and Avery Ellfeldt will be the editors of the Messenger next year and Sydney is our budget manager. She will do the presentation but I'm here if you have questions.

b) Sydney Wagner: $18,533 is our budget for next year. Our projected revenue is $21,973, and this includes subscriptions, print advertising, online advertising, and the BSM allocation. These numbers are conservative for advertising - I think we will be able to work to get those numbers higher. We're thinking about adding ads online. Printing costs $8,300 which covers 21 issues. We have a special issue produced during week 1 for first-years. Stipends make up 55.4% of our revenue. This is because all of the things that we want to work toward for developing the Mess requires people power. We want to invest in the future of the Mess so we're investing in the people that will be doing the work. We want to attract more readership to the Mess. We're asking for a $2,000 increase which will go to stipends and mess staff development, which total to $1,600 and then the extra money will go to . we will be printing one less week and printing one less page per newspaper. There was a lot of negligence with the previous business managers. This year we made big sacrifices to resolve the Mess's debt. We cut our stipends 60% first semester and 15% second semester. Emma raised $3,000 over the summer from alumni donations. Some things I want to look into next year are a snapchat partnership. Snapchat added a partnership with college newspapers on the discover page. They have geo-specific newspapers - so people in Northfield could receive a copy of the Mess on their Snapchat. One of the big pluses of this is Snapchat gives 50% of the ads that they earn from this. We have two contacts at Snapchat so far. This is part of what the digital media budget will go to - obviously the Snapchat format is different than print so we need the equipment to fit their style. Many of the ads for local businesses are ugly and hard to read. There are people on the Mess who are good at design and we can charge businesses a one-time fee to design an ad for them. We're also planning on offering discounts for businesses that advertise in every article for a semester. I've created a LinkedIn group to connect with alumni - there's an alum that works at the New York Times and several that work at the Star Tribune. We want to tap into them as mentors - I know they would love to help us. Moving away from print would be great but we can't do that until we have our footing with this new digital age. Many of our subscriptions come from older alumni, so these people probably wouldn't get the online version. There's something sentimental about getting the paper version. So Avery and Anders are working towards preparing our staff and putting in extra hours to ultimately better the paper. One example is the series on faculty sexual assault - these get a lot of readership. If we can guarantee that an edition is going to sell out, that's a big sell for the advertisers.

c) Mattson: Avery and I are planning to do a timeline for the Mess probably over 4 years to transition to online - this mostly includes training. We're moving more towards doing investigative journalism- those articles take around a year of work. We do a lot of work and this is why we ask for stipends.

d) Khaleel: We were told that it will take 3-4 years for the Mess to move online last year too. How will there be communication to ensure that this will happen?

e) Mattson: Avery and I plan to come up with a timeline that's locked in stone about when we'll be done with print. That can be shared with SGA by this time next year.

f) Wagner: They came in with a deficit of $4000 last year. It's hard when you're strapped to come up with a whole new business model. So now that we're debt free we can focus on this.

g) Nwigwe: I think the budget should be brought to Senate. The only reason you're at 0 right now is because you took the cut in stipends. If you increase those stipends next year, you're going to see significantly higher costs. Although these are fantastic ideas, things like Snapchat only work in places with big numbers. The LinkedIn group would probably be your best bet for investing in the paper.

h) Wagner: The budget won't be at a deficit if we don't get a big donation. We have an extra $150.

i) Mattson: I don't know that we can have a timeline by next fall. We're starting to transition and I need to know what that will look like before I can give a plan for 2022.

3. KSTO

a) Harry Edstrom: KSTO has had a great year. On average our weekly listening has tripled since last year, our programming has increased by 150%, and we've had more going on than we have since 2013. TV and phone bill is just phone now, so it's down to $300 for the two phones in the studio. The extra $300 is going to promotional materials - t-shirts and stickers etc. Printing expenses will stay the same - that was successful this year. We printed DJ's posters for their shows. Concerts and events are staying about the same. We had two events this year and we aren't the kind of organization that needs to be throwing a lot of events. We collaborated with MEC and PAC on some events and collaborated with the astronomy club on one. We're decreasing the allocation for studio improvements. We basically renovated our studio this year. We have a lot of new equipment and had some sound proofing done. We're not doing stipends because it doesn't make sense for the amount of work the team does as a whole - it's pretty manageable. We brought on five new staff members that are current first-years and sophomores so the station will be left in good hands next year.

D. EMTs Presentation

1. Madeleine Wagner Sherer: I'm the outgoing president of the St Olaf EMTs. We are currently 32 members who provide care for the campus. We are on call always. We serve 12-24 shifts and are in full uniform with a bag and radio . We're all volunteers and all paid for our certification. Most people will contribute 500-1000 hours total in their time on the team. Our current budget is $1800 for medical supplies. Uniforms are rented, but they're old so we need new ones. We want to develop a way to make it more affordable and available for more members of the college to participate in our service. It costs $1000-2000 to pay for the class so we want to work on scholarships so everyone can do it. We're working with financial aid to figure out how that system would be developed.

2. Charlee Skare: We can go into the topic areas so feel free to ask questions.

3. Mazen: Can you explain more about the cost you pay for certification?

4. Wagner Sherer: My class was 2 months.

5. Skare: Many of our members take courses through Northfield EMS. It's a primary course first semester and then EMT completion in the spring semester and then you take your EMS test. It's about $1500 for both of those courses.

6. Wagner Sherer: That's not included in tuition. They've been working to approve that for St Olaf tuition. This could help students to do a cheaper course or a course over the summer. When I went to Greg Kneser asking about why we were removed from the administrative budget, he said that someone else did his budget and removed us.

7. Skare: We had a huge cost with radios and next year uniforms will be a big replacement cost.

8. Mazen: You pay for the certification out of your own pocket? This is classist. We should allocate more for this.

9. Skare: On average we get 10-12 new members a year. We don't know if this number will go up if there is more availability for these courses. We all paid out of pocket. You can take out a loan for this, but that can be difficult.

10. Wagner Sherer: Before this our budget was $2,000 and just went to medical supplies so having this pre-budget line item allows us to open this up to more people. This allows a lot of people to do this.

11. Ben Quiram: The uniform cost that we have on the screen will be higher this year than in the future - this is the year we're replacing them and then in the future that number can go down and then the scholarship funds can go up, pending details that we'll provide next fall.

12. Wagner Sherer: We're trying to become individual of the college - we get paid $15/hour per EMT to work Pause dances.

13. Skare: We're trying to get our services more well-known so orgs like sports can hire us to be there.

14. Smithson: Is it common for people to come to St Olaf having completed these certification classes or have more people completed them here?

15. Skare: You need to be 18 so only three of our members have come to St Olaf with it already, but many get it after. I came to St Olaf because of this club.

16. Brunclik: Thanks for the help at Pause dances. Have you thought about asking alumni to donate to a scholarship fund?

17. Skare: We've been disconnected from past St Olaf EMT exec boards. Our secretary person is trying to reach back and connect to alumni.

18. Mazen: I want to talk about how the scholarship line item is only $2,300 and it's classist.

19. Wagner Sherer: I agree we're trying to make it as accessible as possible. I agree that this number should be increased.

20. Khaleel: This was brought to light because we were discussing having St Olaf EMTs as a pre-budget line item because they have been so underfunded. It's not that the scholarship didn't exist there's other areas we need to look at. The idea is to have a long-term discussion with the EMTs. It's concerning to all of us too - it's a matter of where do we get the money with.

21. Wagner Sherer: We've been working with financial aid to figure out how we could offer this since we can't have access to any other student's information. But financial aid is happy to continue working with us.

22. Nwigwe: We have faith that this number is going to go up, it's just that we only became aware of the need for this scholarship three days ago.

23. Skare: My goal is to have this ready to roll out next spring for people who want to take a course over the summer or over the 2019-20 school year. I'm willing to do whatever is needed to give you a timeline or whatever your need. Another benefit of it being in the spring is we will know how our figures will move as the school year goes on and if we have extra money we can put it there

24. Shema: Is there any way the classes could be available at St Olaf? If not, is there any way it would be easier to do it alongside your own classes.

25. Skare: It's 2-3 times a week for 4 hours. That's not including outside studying because you need to study for that class. We'll keep trying but putting credits for that amount of time doesn't match.

26. Wagner Sherer: You need a lot of space to have the class and it would be hard to have mass casualty incident training. There's a lot of people who attend the classes in Northfield who aren't St Olaf students.

27. Skare: I used Van-go and you can coordinate with different locations in your hometown or whatever.

28. Shema: On average how much money needed and how much time?

29. Skare: I paid $1500 and I would guess low end would be around 800 hours of training.

V. Student Comments Section

- A. Apoorva Handigol: I'm a junior SOAN major at Carleton. I'm the CSA president for next year I've been serving since March. I came to see how your Senate works. I'm excited to work with your student government. I'm also a Carls Talk Back cofounder and I'm excited to work with the Collective. Feel free to reach out.

VI. Reports and Announcements

- A. Brunclik: ADC is working on getting ready for Stochella.
- B. Khaleel: Stochella is this Friday 4-1 am. Dinner will be 4-6:30 pm outside. Please let your friends know. If it does rain it will be inside but still just 4-6:30 pm. In exec we've been working on figuring out training and budgets for next year.
- C. Nwigwe: We're finalizing the contract for next year's NYT paper agreement. We're talking to payroll to see if we could move some of the people in the Mess's stipends to the OSA budget so they could earn student work award money while working for the Mess and then move that allocation to EMTs.
- D. Ahsan: On the 25th of April, SOC recognized figure skating club and German honor society. We funded College Democrats and INBLACK. On May 2nd we had a grant opportunity for student orgs. One grant went to the debate team for the MN Urban Debate Leagues and one went to Campus U. We funded OUTS for a canoe trip and Project Respiration. We funded the Catholic Student Association for a conference. The Donate-a-Meal sign up period ended so if you signed up you have one less meal this week. 1655 was total number of entries. That number might go down a bit after Bon Appetit counts but it's still breaking the record set in the fall.

- E. May: Stochella is this Friday. And Greater Than is doing mental health week this week.
- VII. Wake: Stochella!
- VIII. Laird: We're going to discuss an email sent out to faculty on how they can improve the lives of students in their classes.
- IX. Shema: Ellingson, Mohn, Kildahl, and Thorson have their carnival coming up and the bidormal formal with Kildahl is Saturday.
- X. Burt: We're having a bidormal formal!
- XI. Buaben: We're having a carnival on Sunday.
- XII. Aehl: There's a greenhouse gala on Saturday at the greenhouse. Tickets are on sale this week.
- XIII. Grossman: We had a grill out on the lawn.
- XIV. Zielske: We're appointing a new GE task force of the 20-18-19 school year so we will need 2 students on the task force as well as one student over the summer. If you or anyone you know is interested, talk to me.
- XV. Rajan: Greater Than is having mental health awareness week.
- XVI. Karsell: Hoyme is winding down. We did well with spending so we have a lot to spend on food and hall improvements at the end of the year.
- XVII. M. Johnson: Read and I did food collection and we're still waiting to get the numbers back from Bon App about what they collected. We counted 210 lbs of food was and 10 gallons of liquid waste.
- XVIII. P. Johnson: We're working on Stochella food trucks!
- XIX. Smithson: The Special Olympics bags tournament was a success. SAAB is hosting a Special Olympics basketball tournament this Saturday. We're reviewing the SAAB liaison position.
- XX. Casey: 25% of the senior class has participated in time capsule. It will be locked up next week.
- XXI. Boldt: Rand is grilling out next week.
- XXII. Hodge: There's Greater Than stuff this week.
- XXIII. Weaver: SAC had an OUTS collaboration, CarNAFa!, and something else on Sunday. Stochella is coming up this week.
- XXIV. Anderson: MEC has three things on Friday: a DJ booth with DJs performing stuff by the food trucks, Teeny Desk (like NPR's tiny desk series) with a million performers there. It will be 3:30-9:45 pm, outside of the giant windows of Stav. We also have a big screen that we will play iconic music videos and band movies on and that will be in Crossroads. We're going to have a lemonade hour. Also we're having a "try and beat Shazam" event and we have nice baseball caps too!

XXV. Zaghoudi: The regents were here last week for their third meeting of the year. We presented on the GE revision. Faculty governance committee presented on SRAP.

XXVI. Palermo: Thorson is finalizing our last events of the year.

XXVII. Proxy Syal: Kildahl, Thorson, Ellingson, and Mohn will have the carnival Saturday. Senator Syal is holding interviews for the It's On Us exec team.

XXVIII. Al-Haddad: The school has been working on getting a director for international students.

XXIX. Mazen: The Pause is closing next week on Tuesday at 7pm.

XXX. Bergeland: Tomorrow during chapel time and Thursday community time come to the OSA to pick up your Senate t-shirts. Next Tuesday is the last Senate meeting and the Senate banquet. We will have no new business. Subcommittees will do their final reports. Please be prepared to present. We will also discuss the working group report. Also remember to fill out the Senator of the Year award by tomorrow at midnight.

XXXI. Consent Agenda

A. Greater Than Bylaws Change - Sen. Peder Johnson

1. Proposal passes.

XXXII. Old Business

XXXIII. New Business

A. Senate Initiatives Bylaws Change - Sen. Nwigwe

1. Nwigwe: There is nothing to be changed or added here. Everything has already been said by Sarah or the EMTS; this is just the paperwork that needs to be done. If this is tabled it will go through bylaws and they will make any grammatical changes.

2. Proposal is tabled.

B. EMT's Bylaws Change - Sen. Nwigwe

1. Proposal is tabled.

C. Collegiate Readership Change - Sen. Nwigwe

1. Nwigwe: We changed the name. We will have 75 New York Times papers in Buntrock every day.

2. Boldt: Since the cost is fixed at $10,000 - if the price goes up, will the number of papers go up?

3. Nwigwe: This is just for this year. The cost will likely be less. Mac can change it next year if he wants.

4. Proposal is tabled.

D. Capital Improvements Bylaws Change (with presentation) - Sen. Palermo

1. Palermo: We've been meeting with the people we need to to figure out the feasibility of these projects and the costs. We bring this to you so that you can update it.

2. Zaghoudi: Club sports doesn't have anywhere to store their stuff. Last year, capital improvements bought a storage unit, but didn't buy shelves, so we're buying shelves.

3. Ahsan: We also got outdoor seating because that's what people said they wanted when we were tabling. We're planning to place them in the area with the chalkboard by the library. There's nothing over there and we won't have to pave some other area.

4. Grossman: We're planning to get more mobile whiteboards for Regents or Rolvaag.

5. Nwigwe: The EMT club changed from analog to digital radios. VN funded them of the first round of radios. It's possible for them to tap into capital improvements now so they can get them.

6. Palermo: Total cost of these projects is $7,812. At the beginning of the year we were allocated $10,500. But the two sustainable waste units that were passed through Senate last year we didn't buy because they don't pick up compost in Regents. So we had $14,500 in capital improvements' budget. The extra money will carry over to next year.

7. Smithson: Is that the permanent location for the outdoor seating?

8. Ahsan: Yes.

9. Mazen: Where is the club sport storage? Like for the shelving units.

10. Ahsan: SOC heard in October that there was a storage unit. We found it when they started doing construction near Skog. It's down there - it's like a shipping container. It's 19'4"x7'6"x7'6". We found out Chris Rotty had the keys and now Judy Tegtmeier has the keys. It will be managed through them.

11. Proposal is tabled.

E. Faculty Governance Committee Bylaws Change - Sen. Khaleel

1. Khaleel: This is to add that faculty committee senators, the positions of Senator Laird and Senator Zielske will be selecting a student for the assessment committee.

2. Zielske: This committee used to be a part of the curriculum committee but now they're a standalone committee, so they want to student representative. Their purpose is to assess our assessment structure here.

3. Hodge: I think it's great to have another mind and a student on this committee.

4. Proposal is tabled.

- A. Brunclik: Stomazing Race is happening. There will be prize packages with things like gift cards to restaurants, a movie projector, hammocks, speakers, yard games, a polaroid camera, etc.
- B. Khaleel: Stochella is happening this Friday.
- C. Nwigwe: There will be kettle corn at Stochella.
- D. Ahsan: The food trucks will be just North of Boe. VN, SOC, and BORSC will be handing out vouchers for free food at their booths
- E. Aehl: MIAC championships for track for men and women at Carleton.
- F. Grossman: I will be drawing caricatures for Stochella.
- G. Zielske: Student congregation has an ice cream social tomorrow. We will be making health kits for Lutheran World Relief at that as well. Senator McQuaig is speaking in chapel on Thursday.
- H. Rajan: Come write letters to our family tomorrow. We'll have letters and stamps, etc. We'll be at Stochella too!
- I. Karsell: The Northfield Experience was last weekend.
- J. M. Johnson: EC is doing a greenhouse gala on regents fourth floor roof. Money raised will go to Cannon River Watershed Partnership.
- K. Weaver: SAC is doing pet rocks tomorrow.
- L. Anderson: Greenhouse gala will be magical! At 5:30 during Stochella me, Rita Thorsen, and James Wheeler will be laying down jams, bops, slaps, etc. Eat dinner during the 5:30-6 time.
- M. Al-Haddad: The 27th is graduation!
- N. Mazen: Pause is having bouncy houses at Stochella.
- O. McQuaig: Not only should you come to chapel on Thursday, but you should also come to the Pause Friday night 11-12.
- P. Bergeland: Please table this Thursday the 10th! We need people to let people know about the constitutional changes because there's a lot of people who are confused by them. You can give them the background and talk about what was discussed in this body. Senate is doing snow cones - please sign up for a 30 minute shift. Shoutout to Jauza for organizing this big event!

XXXV. Senator of the Week

A. Senator Mazen to _____?

1. Senators M. Johnson and Karsell!

XXXVI. Adjournment
